Development Potential - Subject To Planning

- The Barn, a picturesque 1.1-acre property currently used as office space, presents an array of development opportunities. Nestled in the scenic surroundings of Sutton in the Elms, the property holds significant potential for both commercial and residential redevelopment subject to obtaining prior planning permission.
- The Barn's existing use as an office space offers the potential to retain it as a commercial asset with alternative commercial uses, such as a boutique retail space, restaurant or cafe, showroom or exhibition space.
- Additionally, The Barn could be converted into a luxury residential home with 0.8 acres of private gardens, offering a unique rural home in an attractive part of Leicestershire.
- Recent trends in the local area indicate a rise in the construction of high-end 3-5 bedroom detached homes, highlighting strong demand for premium housing. This creates an opportunity to develop a small number of 3-5 bedroom dwellings on the 0.5 acres of land, adding to the 11 new detached dwellings constructed on Sutton Lane in the past 5 years.
- A mixed-use approach may allow for the best use of the 1.1-acre site by retaining commercial viability whilst unlocking residential development potential. This strategy could create a development that benefits from both commercial and residential demand in the local area.
